Barbecue To Spot Livestock Market Opening May 12

County Cattlemen Association
Sponsor Event For Area Cattlemen

To celebrate the Glades Livestock Market opening May 12 at 1 p. m., the Palm Beach County Cattlemen Association schedules a barbecue this afternoon at 5 p. m. and Belle Glade.

Ernest R. Graham, prominent dairyman and former state senator, will speak on "Problems Facing Florida Cattlemen," according to H. L. Spier, secretary of the County Cattlemen Association.

Approximately 150 cattlemen and dairymen and their families of Palm Beach and surrounding counties are expected to attend the event. Spier and Land Pease are in charge of arrangements.

The temporary board of directors of the market association will present a report on the program being drawn up by the management for development of the market, according to Geo. C. Young, manager.

Since the market is under the direction of local cattlemen and will be operated for their benefit, they will be requested to suggest policies and operation procedures, Young says.

Prominent cattlemen of the State are expected to witness the first sale when approximately 500 head will be auctioned. Nathan Mayo, state commissioner of agriculture, and Merrill Baber, state road commissioner of this district, will be special guests.

Colonel Bob Cooper, Sarasota, will be the auctioneer. Those planning to enter in the first sale are urged to report the number of head to Young as soon as possible.

All Pre-School Children Must Have Physical Examinations

Mr. Frank Hobson has announced that each child who will start school next year is required to have a physical examination before he can register.

Examinations for pre-school children will be given May 13, beginning at 12:30, at the High School Auditorium. Dr. E. C. Johnson of Pahokee, will make the examinations.

Rev. Griffin To Be Baptist Pastor

Reverend Wade H. Griffin, prominent in South Carolina for his religious work, will give the first sermon at the First Baptist Church here Sunday as permanent pastor.

A native of the South, Reverend Griffin has held several pastorates in South Carolina. Coming here from Piedmont, he will be the first of a new line of pastors to be assigned to the church by the denomination.

Local High School Evaluation To Be Announced Tonight

County Evaluation Committee
Completes Three Day
Conference Here

The three-day evaluation program of Belle Glade High School was launched Wednesday night when approximately 54 faculty and committee members met in general assembly in the auditorium.

Mrs. Anna Keene, presented the school philosophy report, and Mrs. Ruth Langworthy the pupil population committee report. Dr. H. Dean of Florida State University, instructor of the evaluation course, was program coordinator.

The school philosophy, emphasizing that work around the individual, was drawn up through a continuing process. Mrs. Keene stated. Committee members considered and incorporated philosophies of the different departments.

They also reviewed philosophies of other schools and drew on the philosophical and educational background of the members, she said. After being submitted for discussion, the statement of philosophy and objectives was polished and shortened.

In the report on pupil population, Mrs. Langworthy emphasized that the community represents social, educational, and economic extremes. Pointing to the large area served by Belle Glade High School, she stated that 47 percent of the students are transported to the school.

Thursday the evaluation committee studied school facilities in a double class room visit. The P.T.A. sponsored a dinner in the cafeteria Thursday night. Final committee review and report will be presented at 7:30 tonight at a public program in the auditorium, according to

Boy Scouts Come Home From Boca Raton Camporee

Lois sunburn, mosquito bites and happy faces blossomed among the boys of Troops 22 and 88 as dusk came on Saturday night. They were on their way home from the annual Camporee, held this year at Boca Raton.

Nearly 150 Scouts, representing nine troops from all over South Glades District of the Gulf Stream Council, spent Friday night and most of Saturday camped on the hills of long since deserted Boca Raton Army Air Base.

High spot of the Camporee was Friday evening. All Scouts and their leaders gathered around the headquarters campfire circle. Under the silver light of a waxing full moon, a hush fell over the group as mysterious figures moved into the center of the circle. The figures turned out to be advanced Scouts, garbed in loin cloths to look like Indians. With a word of introduction to Scout executive Harold Morgan, the two "Indians" proceeded to demonstrate fire-building methods.

SMATHERS MAN GETS WHEELBARROW RIDE

Senatorial elections are not a thing of the past yet—at least in Belle Glade. Officer Bonard got a free ride in a wheelbarrow because he was on the right hand wagon.

J. H. Sharpe, convinced that his candidate, Senator Claude Pepper, was a sure thing made a rash bet with Bonard, a Smathers man.

The wager was that the losing party would push the winner down the main street in a wheelbarrow.

Thursday afternoon officer Bonard sat smiling on a pillow in the conveyance. Sharpe pushed him around the main business block stopping only for a piss in the gutter and to light a cigarette.

A Word On The Art Of Play

Much has been said for the art of almost everything. World sages have left out a very important one, however, in their words of wisdom—the art of play.

To eliminate the lack, this sage would like to drop a few pearls of wisdom on the talent. And what art can be more important since our days are supposed to be divided between labor and recreation.

Like any other art, the adage "practice makes perfect" applies. Belle Glade needs an enlarged practicing ground—perhaps a bowling alley.

For several weeks a group of local ladies, approximately twenty strong, have been journeying the rocky road to Clewiston just to participate in the sport. During the winter Bill Graber with a team of seven and A. J. Richmond with six team members went to Clewiston to play in tournaments.

The men are really good. They attack the pins as though they were a most critical business venture.

Not to be out done, the ladies have been limbering up their elbow joints and improving rapidly. Mrs. A. E. Kirchman, Mrs. Jim Williams, Mrs. A. J. Richmond and Mrs. Garold McKee are the shining athletes and spearheaded the movement.

They take the long 21 mile trip every week and sometimes more often. They pay 20 cents for each game, fifteen cents for bowling shoes, and more for cold drinks and refreshments.

The proposition is open. Why not make it easy for these people to stay home, play and spend their money here.

The four bowling alleys in Clewiston are for sale at between $500 and $1000 dollars. They are owned by the United States Sugar Company, and W. C. Owens is the man to see.

New alleys cost approximately $2500 dollars apiece. Local organizations and clubs looking for worthy projects should examine this possibility. In addition to providing the community with another outlet for wholesome recreation in our town, the project might prove profitable to the sponsor.

Local history shows that Belle Glade once had a bowling alley nine or ten years ago in the old Legion Hall where the Belle Glade Motors now stand. The alleys were owned by Clyde Doolittle and operated by Jack Bashley. The fact the alleys are no longer here testifies that they were probably not profitable at that time.

With time, however, circumstances change. It is conceivable that conditions have altered to such an extent that the situation is ripe for establishment of facilities.

For one thing, Belle Glade's population has tripled. Interest has grown obviously since 23 people are enthusiastic enough about the sport to go to Clewiston so frequently. Some of the bowling fans even go into West Palm Beach for lessons.

In addition to those already participating, there is the teenage group of the town. Recreation opportunities here are limited for this set. The alleys would offer an additional outlet or our young energy. It would place our youth behind bowling balls instead of 8 balls.

The strategic time is at hand in view of interest and opportunity to buy. Sports afforded in the vicinity are golf and tennis. Golf is too expensive for some, and there are only two cement tennis courts in the park. Belle Glade's populace needs expanded territory in which to sharpen their art of play.

What's the secret of the "UNRUFFLED" RIDE?

SOME car makers say springs make the ride—and so we give every Buick four of the soft, gentle coil springs practically all cars use on front wheels only.

Some say the drive is important—how power is transmitted to the rear wheels.

We agree—and use a torque-tube drive, that takes up all the thrust, freeing rear springs of driving pulsation.

Some stress tires—so you'll find low-pressure casings on every Buick, mounted on our own kind of Safety-Ride rims. Some play up shock absorbers—we make ours fast, soft and sure in action, to wash out all "after-bounce."

Then there are frames—and car weight—and engine mountings, which on Buick are a very special kind used nowhere else.

They're all important—yet the plain truth is no one of these things—or two or three—gives a ride you can truly call "unruffled."

We feel it takes all of them—springs, tires, shock absorbers, drive, engine mountings—carefully and precisely brought into balance with each other.

You can see why we think so in any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

You can feel it on cobblestones and car tracks, washboard gravel and weather-pocked macadam, country lane and city street. You even feel it on boulevard, which grow still smoother when you travel them in a Buick—especially when it has Dynaflo Drive!

So we would like you to try a ride that is truly "unruffled." Free of harshness—undisturbed by jounce and jitter—level—steady-going—smooth.

Just ask any Buick dealer for a chance to try out any Buick. You'll find it "the ride of a lifetime"—and the buy of a lifetime too!

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Buick models.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT

This rigid front end (1) sets the style note, (2) drives on rough roads—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and changing easier.

Only Buick has Dynaflo—and with it goes!

Florida Truck Crop News Summary For Last Month

Weather conditions were generally unfavorable for tender vegetable crops during the first half of April. Scattered frost occurred in North and Central Florida extending as far south as the Everglades. Pompano, Fort Myers sections on the mornings of April 7 and 8. This was followed by another cold period on April 15 and 16 with fairly heavy frost in north Florida and light scattered frost in Central Florida. These low temperatures were generally preceded or accompanied by strong cold winds and a combination of the two have been most damaging to tender crops. Complete loss of acreage has been light except in the case of watermelons, sweet corn, and snap beans, but the prospective yields and quality of all tender crops have been greatly reduced. On the other hand, the cool weather has been favorable for the celery, potato, and late cabbage crops.

In spite of the unfavorable growing conditions during the past six weeks, the volume of produce from the State during the first half of April was only about 10 percent less than it was during the second half of March. However, the effects of these adverse conditions will become more pronounced as the harvesting season advances in the Central and North Florida section. Harvesting of snap beans is active in the important Everglades section with light picking getting started in Central and North Florida. Cabbage shipments are expected to decline rather sharply during the second half of the month as the active shipping season of this crop is drawing to a close. Celery should continue to move in good volume, but at a slight declining level. The volume of sweet corn should show a further increase during the second half of the month. Cucumbers yields have been most disappointing and future yield prospects are much below normal. Peppers are expected to continue in good supply during the next two weeks, but the condition of the crop in the important Plant City section has deteriorated somewhat under the recent unfavorable growing conditions. Harvesting of a good crop of potatoes is active in the Hastings section. Tomatoes continue to move in a fairly steady volume with harvesting nearing completion in Dade County, but gaining in volume in the important spring sections of Fort Pierce and Manatee-Ruskin. The condition and general progress of the watermelon crop is most irregular and ranges from light harvesting in South Florida to just replanted in North Florida, with the average age and development of the crop two weeks to a month later than normal.

Home Demonstration Organization Serves State's Farm People

With farm machinery doing most of the heavy work on farms, and because of improvements in agricultural methods and more rural electric and telephone services, farmers and their families have more leisure time to spend together in the home than ever before in history. Because of this, the work of home demonstration agents and the State Home Demonstration Council in encouraging farm families in methods of home improvement and ways to attain more comfortable living standards is becoming more important. This year marks the 26th anniversary of Florida State Home Demonstration Council's service to Florida farm people. Through its efforts, farm families are now enjoying more happiness and comfort than ever before. The council is an organization devoted to helping home demonstration agents serve more people efficiently. As encouragement to 4-H club work, the Council finances 4-H projects or girls who are unable to raise money themselves. This aid has done much to raise the standard of living among less fortunate farm groups. The Council's scholarship fund is of primary importance to girls from Florida's rural sections, for with help from this fund, many girls have been able to remain in college who could not have finished their education otherwise. During these times of high food prices, Council members are encouraging rural people to produce their own table foods, as far as possible, to save money for other purposes. Members gather and help home agents distribute the latest information telling farmers how to grow these table items economically.

The Council members use all possible methods to help home demonstration agents show rural families how to conserve food, improve health by proper nutrition and cleanliness, improve the home, care for babies and children, and add zest to family gatherings.

Hearing Set On Wages For Florida Sugarcane

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today that, in accordance with the Sugar Act of 1949, a public hearing will be held on wage rates for the period July 1, 1950 through June 30, 1951 and on prices for the 1950 crop of sugarcane. The hearing will be held on May 6, 1950, in the Sugarland Park Auditorium, Clewiston, Florida, beginning at 10:00 a.m. One of the conditions which producers must meet to qualify for payments under the Sugar Act of 1949 is to pay wage rates not less than those determined to be fair and reasonable by the Secretary of Agriculture after a public hearing and investigation. The Act also provides, as a condition for payment, that producers must pay for sugarcane purchased from other producers at prices determined to be fair and reasonable by the Secretary of Agriculture.

In order to obtain the best possible information, the Department requests that all interested persons appear at the hearing to present their views and present appropriate data in regard to wages and prices.

Home Demonstration Work Is Praised By University Leaders

Presidents of both Florida State University and the University of Florida recently issued statements extolling home demonstration work for its contributions to rural family advancement and welfare, as well as to the community and the state. Dr. Doak S. Campbell, president of Florida State University at Tallahassee, and Dr. J. H. Miller, president of the University of Florida at Gainesville, issued their statements in connection with National Home Demonstration Week, April 30, May 6. "Measured in terms of its actual achievements on behalf of human welfare and happiness," Dr. Campbell says, "I know of no single agency which contributes more than the program of home demonstration work."

"Multitudes of families have had their lives made happier and richer and have improved their standards of living as a result of the helpful assistance that has been rendered through the state and county home demonstration agents."

"The totals of food production and conservation, improved housing, and family living conditions are objective and can be easily summed up in figures. I know that the spiritual values in the lives of both young and old people that result from this program are immeasurable."

President Miller says, in part, "County home demonstration agents have carried the results of agricultural research from the laboratories and campuses of the land-grant colleges and universities to the remotest sections of every state in the Union and have thereby enriched the home life and physical well-being of multitudes of rural American families. Greater economic stability, improved housing and home living, conservation and use of natural resources, and a trained rural youth leadership represent some of the rich fruits of this program."

Great Natural Wealth Lies In Our State's Seventeen Big Springs

Florida's many springs are a strong summer tourist attraction and are one of the State's most significant natural resources, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce states. Last week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division reports 17 springs of first magnitude in Florida out of a national total of 75, more than in any other state. These largest of Florida's springs have maximum flows of from 65 million to 322 million gallons a day. In addition, Florida has 49 springs of second magnitude, that is, springs which average a flow of from 7 to 65 million gallons a day. Countless other springs of smaller sizes occur throughout the State.

The economic value of these springs is incalculable. Recreation, agriculture, industry and navigation all benefit directly. The spring areas which are commercialized for recreational purposes contribute appreciably to the economy of the State as well as to that of the area. Many of the springs make navigation of rivers possible. Others are used or hydraulic power. Broadly, the combined flows of the States many springs provide essential water for human needs, to agricultural crops, for livestock and or vegetation.

Giant Clam To Be Exhibited At Miami Coconut Festival

A giant man-eating clam, 112 pounds, will highlight the unique sea shell exhibit at the annual Coconut Harvest Festival, May 6 and 7, at Crandon Park, A. D. Barnes, director of Dade county parks, announced. Henry G. Frampton, operator of the Tropical Biological Supply Company, who will set up one of the shell displays, said the clam, of the man-eating variety, is the largest in the world. These clams are found in the South Pacific and Indian Ocean. Considered one of the foremost authorities on sea shells, Frampton said there are more than 70,000 different shell varieties in the world, with the majority found here in Florida. He will have about 150 different type shells on exhibit during the festival, which will feature the international picnic theme.

Insurance must be modern, too!

Drifting 2-4-D Spray Harms Nearby Crops

What appeared to be a very serious new disease of cabbage here recently turned out to be damage from 2-4-D drifting from nearby spraying projects.

In describing symptoms of the damage to cabbage, Assistant County Agent H. L. Speer said stems were elongated, heads failed to close, and large wart-like growths occurred in the leaf axils.

Tomatoes and peppers in the same area also showed 2-4-D damage by the sudden development of extreme mosaic symptoms. Mr. Speer advised caution in the use of 2-4-D to prevent damage to crops in all areas.

Construction Work Begun For New 4-H Camp In Highlands

Summertime means a camp time for hundreds of 4-H club boys and girls from all over Florida and the youngsters are getting ready for this year's outing. In the past, overcrowded conditions have existed in the three present camps over the state, so this year Agricultural Extension Service workers and 4-H club leaders and members are planning to build and open a new camp near here on Lake Francis.

Present plans for the camp call for an expenditure of $75,000 to $80,000, according to District Agent K. S. McMullen, which approximately $10,000 in cash and several hundred dollars' worth of materials already have been donated.

Four-H groups are doing their share toward making the new camp a reality. Youngsters from Manatee County 4-H club raised money in various ways and have started work on the first building, a leader's cabin, on the campsite. Hillsborough clubs recently sent the building fund $225 that they raised by operating a 4-H parking lot at the Plant City Strawberry Festival.

With the cash and materials on hand, work is getting under way for seven buildings, including five boys' and girls' cabins, a caretaker's cabin and a machine shop classroom. Mr. McMullen says plans will soon be complete for digging a well. Although the Highlands 4-H Camp will not be finished by the opening of the camping season, Mr. McMullen says it will definitely be used by the young folks this summer.

University Workers Offer Suggestions On Farming Topics

(Editor's Note: Information in this column comes from the Agricultural Experiment Stations and Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Florida.)

When supers are filled and the honey flow for a particular plant is over, it is advisable to remove the honey as soon as possible. If this is not done, other plants may furnish nectar and result in honey being stored in the combs from two sources.

Lubber grasshoppers, which appear in groups of 20 or more in the spring, may be controlled by dusting them with either 10 percent toxaphene or 5 percent chlordane dust. The pests may scatter quickly when the dust gets on them, but the material will kill them in a few hours.

For the home garden, Pan-America and Southland varieties of tomatoes are first choice because they are immune to fusarium wilt, a serious disease on many tomato varieties in Florida soil. A good variety is Rutgers, which has some resistance to wilt and Rutgers plants usually are more available than those of some other varieties.

If a horse or mule doing heavy work is allowed to eat all the hay he wants, he may breathe heavily and tire easily. Therefore it is advisable to feed such an animal a definite and limited quantity of hay, preferably at night so he will have ample time to digest it.

As turkey poulters sometimes are slow about starting to eat, it is a good idea to dip the beak of each into water and then into feed as the bird is placed under the brooder. Sprinkling light green alfalfa meal over the feed also has been found effective in attracting the attention of the poults.

Extension Director Clubs Far-Reaching

That Florida's home demonstration clubs are a far-reaching influence for good is evident to all who are familiar with the work of these organizations of industrious, public-spirited women, says H. G. Clayton, director of the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Commenting on the work of home demonstration clubs, Director Clayton says: "It contributes to the health and general well-being of the rural and suburban family, particularly, but it does more—it fosters and supports the things which we cherish so highly in our great country. It endeavors to make home life healthier, happier, and more satisfying, and in doing this it knits the family more closely together than it otherwise would be. Healthy, happy people work harder, accomplish more, and are imbued with the idea of doing their utmost to help themselves and others in daily living."

He adds that Florida indeed is a healthier, happier, and more beautiful state than it would be without home demonstration clubs. Home demonstration women have contributed much to improvement in Florida during the past quarter of a century or more, and they are continuing their worthwhile activities for advancement in health, social, and economic conditions in the state. How do they do it? The Extension Service director gave this answer to that question:

"Home demonstration work 'demonstrates' to others and thus spreads ideas. Whether it be making a dress, preparing a meal, beautifying the home, or working unselfishly for the good of the community or country, the club member's 'demonstration' serves as a helpful aid to others. Through the things learned from each other, and specially trained home demonstration agents, club members are able to do more for the good of their children, their communities, and their country. They are better able to understand and appreciate the basic values of our way of life and to impart them to their children. The American home is the cradle of democracy, and the club member receives inspiration and guidance that helps her to bring up her children in the American tradition of liberty, good fellowship, faithful service and unswerving loyalty to home and homeland."

His life on earth was a record of goodness. Goodness, shining thru' all his features, goodness suggesting all his thoughts, goodness prompting all his actions, goodness guarding all his speech. His life ever possessed the white stainlessness of sin. To His enemies he said, "Which of you convinceth me of sin?" John 8:46. Mighty was this Saviour as a miracle worker. Blind men He gave sight, deaf men keen ears, dumb men new tongues, crippled men new limbs. He restored crazy men to reason, cleansed lepers, cast out devils, stopped funeral processions, and exhaled the sick.	St. Peter's Lutheran Church Rev. J. J.
